

Contest

In honor of our visiting author, Jerry Pallota the alphabet man, we are having a contest. I have invited our students to create their own ABC book. There will be 2 winners per grade level. Winners will receive a free book and an opportunity to talk with Mr. Pallotta individually on Jan. 30th.

Rules for ABC Books

1. Students must create a book based on a theme, not just random items. For example; favorite sport, animals, food , characters from books, TV shows, cars.
2. Students can type or handwrite the text.
3. Students must include an illustration that is hand drawn on each page. No pictures from the internet or magazines please.
4. Students may work with one other partner. However, the winning team will only receive one book to share.
5. Books are due Jan. 27th.
6. Only one book entry allowed.
