

ALLIANCE FOR A HEALTHIER GENERATION

The Alliance for a Healthier Generation works to address one of the nation's leading public health threats—childhood obesity. The goal of the Alliance is to reduce the prevalence of childhood obesity by 2015, and to empower kids nationwide to make healthy lifestyle choices. Founded in 2005 by the American Heart Association and William J. Clinton Foundation, the Alliance works to positively affect the places that can make a difference in a child's health: homes, schools, doctor's offices, and communities.

Schools that apply for recognition as a Healthy School must meet strict school health criteria and submit documentation of their efforts in the areas of school policies, school meal programs, competitive foods and beverages, health education, physical activity, school employee wellness, physical education, and before and after school programs. There are four award levels that can be achieved: Bronze, Silver, Gold and Platinum.
