Dear Parents and Students,

We will be having our Pajama Read -In on March 8th for Texas Public Schools Week. You are invited to come and join us celebrate the love of reading! Children and Parents are welcome to wear their pajamas (school appropriate) to school and even your slippers. You may bring blankets and pillows to get cozy too. Each child should bring a few books from home to share and we will have plenty of books in the classroom to share as well.

This will be a fun and enjoyable time to share with each other. We hope to see you there!
