

Dear Parents and Guardians,

Next school year (2010-2011), all North East Schools will be moving from the current 8 period A/B Block Schedule to a 7 period schedule in which all classes meet everyday. To assist in a smooth transition, Lee has developed the following Homework/ Testing policy.

Homework Due Dates and Test Dates will be assigned by department based on the chart below:

Even-Number
Calendars Days*

Math
Social Studies
Foreign Language
PE/ Health
ROTC

Odd-Number
Calendar Days*

Science
English
Career and Technology
Fine Arts

In the event a test includes more components (such as objective and written components or written and oral components) than a single period will allow, a teacher may elect to extend the test to a second consecutive day given the first part of the test begins on the assigned day.

* Example September 14 would be considered an even number calendar day. September 15 would be considered an odd-numbered calendar day.
